

World History / Classics II Synthesis Essay
Literary Annotated Bibliography: Beowulf, Macbeth, or Frankenstein
Historical Annotated Bibliography: Historical Period or Persona (80pts.)

Capstone Questions / Synthesis Essay Prompts:

- How does one pursue truth and goodness?
 - Consider responsibility above rights, the morality of choices, or the role and responsibility of science

- What does it mean to be human?
 - Consider responsibility above rights, the morality of choices, or the role and responsibility of science.

- Is knowledge its own end?
 - Consider responsibility above rights, the morality of choices, the role and responsibility of science, the joy of learning, or the power of knowledge

Objective:

- Write a balanced essay based on one (1) primary source and two (2) secondary sources for World History and one (1) primary source and two (2) secondary sources for Classics II. Synthesize the historical and literary perspectives and focuses on one (1) of the capstone questions. Six (6) sources max.

Emphasis:

- Solid thesis development: the thesis statement should demonstrate how the capstone question connects to a literary work and historic period/historic personages from the modern period (post 1500).
- Analysis* and synthesis of information of only biography, description, and/or plot.

Requirements for Balanced Synthesis Essay (80 points):

- Multi-paragraph balanced essay with a strong, arguable thesis that blends the literary and historic aspects of the overarching (capstone) question.
- Data:
 - Literary/Historical perspective: fully embedded data with internal citations in MLA format with data from the primary and secondary sources.
 - Minimum of two (2) literary direct quotes and two (2) historical direct quotes One direct quote must be from a literary primary source and one must be from an historical primary source.
 - Literary and historical sources must have balanced representation
- Correct use of historical academic tone (past tense), literary academic tone (present tense), and proper MLA format
- Four (4) to five (5) pages (not counting WC page)
- Comprehensive Works Cited page (includes both literary and historical sources)
- Use Turnitin.com to assist with revising and editing and to upload final draft

Please note: The rubric score from history and the rubric score from Classics II will be averaged. You will receive the averaged score in each class.

Balanced Synthesis Essay Format

1. Introduction which concludes with thesis that poses the argument based on the capstone question. The argument must reflect both the literary and historical perspectives.
2. Body paragraphs successfully advance the argument (thesis) with strong claims, the required number of data, and fully-developed warrants that clearly show the significance of the data. Concluding sentences blend both the literary and historical perspectives. The body paragraphs reflect the use of parallel structure throughout.
3. The concluding paragraph restates the thesis (in a new way) and summarizes the main points of the argument. The final sentences should clearly tie back to the capstone question with a relevant observation.
4. Works Cited page that lists both the literary and historical sources, correctly formatted, in alphabetical order.

HOW TO STRUCTURE THE THESIS AND CLAIMS FOR THE SYNTHESIS ESSAY

To make different arguments about the two primary sources:

- Use independent and dependent clauses connected with one or more of the options below.

Example: Although both seek knowledge and understanding, Galileo's use of scientific discoveries to benefit humankind is more elevated than Frankenstein's pursuit of forbidden knowledge for personal glory.

Options:

- Use a correlating conjunction: neither...nor, not only...but also (must be used in pairs)
- Use a coordinating conjunction: and, but, yet
- Use a subordinating conjunction: while, whereas, although, because
- Use a conjunctive adverb: conversely, however, similarly, or likewise
- Prepositions: like or unlike

To make similar arguments about the primary sources:

Use an as phrase:

Example: Knowledge requires purpose as exemplified by the Reformation Period and in Shelley's Frankenstein.

Sample as phrases:

...as illustrated by...	...as found in...
...as proven by...	...as seen in...
...as exemplified by...	...as exhibited by...
...as depicted by...	...as evidenced by...
...as shown by...	(or synonyms for any of these words)

Remember:

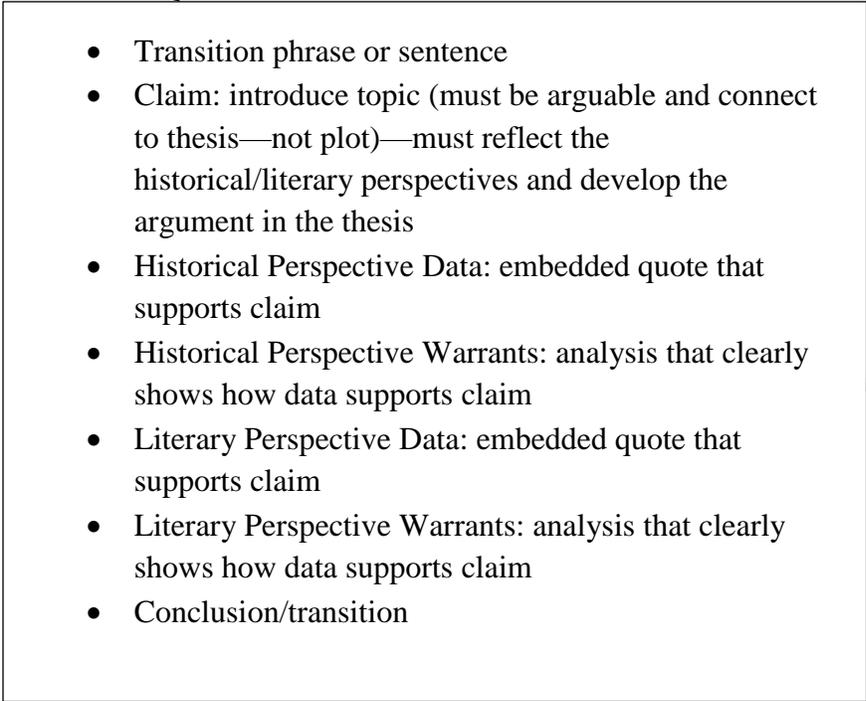

- No three-prong thesis
- Connect thesis and claims specifically to primary sources
- Use parallel structure
- Use correct tone—literary present and historical past

Sample Model for a Balanced Synthesis Essay

The number and length of BPs will depend on the structure needed to develop the argument

Remember: the thesis must reflect both the literary and historical perspectives

Parallel structure: BPs should consistently follow the structure introduced in the thesis statement

STRUCTURING THE BODY PARAGRAPHS

Refer to data requirements on page 2.

Some claims may need only one body paragraph while others may require more than one body paragraph. What will best develop your argument?

Examples:

One Claim-One Paragraph	One Claim-? Paragraphs
Claim: John Locke asserted that humans can gain knowledge, and the Creature increases his knowledge through books. Subpoints: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Locke data and warrants about acquiring knowledge ▪ Creature data and warrants: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Paradise Lost: learns vengeance This argument can be developed in one paragraph with three (3) to four (4) data.	Claim: Napoleon enforced his right to rule with extreme brutality while Beowulf values his responsibility to save others. Subpoints: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Napoleon brutality ▪ Napoleon brutality ▪ Napoleon brutality ▪ Beowulf-Grendel (first agon) ▪ Beowulf-Grendel's mother (second agon) ▪ Beowulf-dragon (third agon) This is a lot to cover in one body paragraph, so you may need to break it down into multiple paragraphs using transitional sentences like this to extend the claim: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Furthermore, Napoleon was brutal when he ___ whereas Beowulf supports Hrothgar's subjects when he kills Grendel's mother. ▪ Napoleon also exhibited brutality by ___ while Beowulf demonstrates his responsibilities to others by destroying the dragon. *You may not need to cover all three subpoints if your argument is adequately developed in the first two subpoints. Refer to the transition word chart in the CWII Handbook, pp. 101-192.
